

Installment Antes Will Be Boosted

Down Payments To Be Increased On Many Items

OTTAWA, Sept. 7.—(CP)—Canadians will have to shell out bigger down payments on installment purchases of such items as passenger cars, refrigerators, electric stoves and other consumer goods as a result of government legislation to be introduced during the current session of parliament.

Notice of the government's proposal to bring down legislation affecting the regulation of consumer credit was given today by Finance Minister Abbott on the Commons order paper.

A government source later disclosed that the government does not intend to increase the down payments required on the construction of new homes or the purchase of new trucks or farm machinery.

The government's edict will mainly be directed at items which Canadians can obtain in department stores, but will include passenger cars. Main purpose of the regulations will be to fight inflationary trends in consumer prices.

LAST WAR PATTERN The source said the consumer credit control program will be similar to the one carried out during the Second World War but will not be so tough on the purchasers' pocketbook. Details of the government's program still have to be worked out.

During the last war, the government ordered that purchasers on the installment plan provide a down payment of one-third. On purchases of less than $500, the time limit of payment was 18 months. On more than $500 it was 24 months.

Campanella Out for Week

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 7.—(UPI)—Doctors say that Ray Campanella, the Brooklyn Dodgers' home-hitting catcher, will be out of action a week to 10 days because of a bruised and cut thumb.

Campanella suffered the injury when hit by a foul tip in the second game of last night's double-header with the Philadelphia Phillies.

Dodgers officials gloomily announced at first that the thumb was broken and the lucky receiver was "lost for the rest of the season." But hospital specialists saved up the cut and said the injury was a severe bruise and that there definitely was no fracture.

Secret Session Rejected On Vote

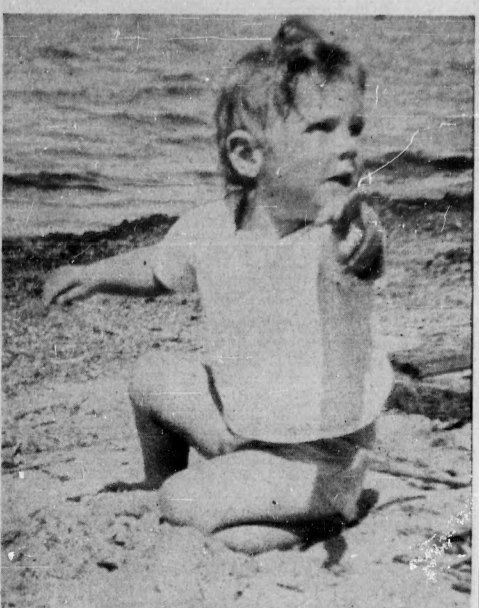

OTTAWA, Sept. 7.—(CP)—The Commons voted 156 to 84 today against a Progressive Conservative suggestion for a secret session to discuss defense matters.

Liberals voted almost solidly against the secret session, with the CCF and Social Credit parties joining with the Progressive Conservatives.

The vote developed upon the statement "I am strangers," made by George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader. This is the traditional form of demanding that the galleries be cleared of spectators.

OBJECT OF WIDE SEARCH

NEW PICTURE of two-year-old Lorraine Smith, missing since Saturday, was circulated by police today as they probed theory that she may have been kidnapped. Some searchers believe child may have been carried down Athabasca or Maligne rivers.

SEARCH AREA in which 500 weary men continue search for two-year-old Lorraine Smith is shown circled on map. Arrow shows camp on southeast shore of Lake Edith from which town wandered Saturday. Search area is bounded by Athabasca river on north, Signal Mountain to south, Jasper Lodge on west and Maligne river.

Markets In Brief

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Demand for rail stocks helped keep the entire market on a firm foot today.

Interest in the carriers peaked up in mid-morning and for a while it seemed likely that a decisive advance was shaping up. There was little follow-through by the buying, however, and most gains were below 1/2 a share.

Only a limited amount of business was done. Turnover was about even with yesterday or 1,300,000 shares.

MONTREAL, Sept. 7.—(CP)—Most securities lined up behind minus signs on the Montreal Stock Exchange and curb market today, following yesterday's heavy drop.

An early wave of selling drove prices fractions to a point lower. However, trading slowed down near the final hour as selling pressure eased and many issues shorted their losses or turned them into small gains.

Losses and gains ranged from small fractions to around a point. Volume showed Industrials with 80,700 shares traded and mines had a turnover of 180,700 shares.

Jasper Search Being Pressed

By Jack DeLong Bulletin Staff Writer

JASPER, Sept. 7.—Possibility that little Lorraine Smith may have been kidnapped is one of the theories being probed here as searchers intensify their six-day futile hunt for the two-year-old baby girl.

Weary but still determined searchers paused to voice a prayer for hope and guidance this morning before they struck into new terrain today heartened by pathologists test proving she had not been devoured by a vicious bear slain Tuesday.

But as the army of searchers moved out from YMCA camp Lake Edith in the early light of dawn ushering in the sixth day of search, all realized there was a desperate urgency in the situation now.

Doctors here feel it unlikely that two-year-old Lorraine can survive the rigors of exposure without food or drink much longer, even if uninjured. Temperatures dropped last night close to the freezing point and some rain fell yesterday afternoon.

At the same time there was growing support for the idea that little Lorraine may have been "taken away in a car."

Those inclined to this belief, including some members of the RCMP and veteran mountain trackers, point to the fact there has been no sign of animals having dragged any form of body in the area so thoroughly combed.

These also feel certain that had the child been attacked by animals some trace of her clothing would have been found long before now.

Searching New Area

The Smith girl disappeared late Saturday afternoon as her parents were unloading their car at a Lake Edith cabin following a Labor Day week end trip from Edmonton.

Decision to search a new area today was made by RCMP inspector William Chisholm and park wardens directing the search at a conference late yesterday.

Today the search was concentrated on an area two miles to the south of the ground now so thoroughly combed since last Saturday. It is upstream along the Athabasca river.

A persistent rumor that is difficult to confirm, states the child was seen asleep near a Lake Edith cottage approximately an hour after she disappeared from beside the Smith cabin.

If such is the case the fact would have deep significance, because the area in which the child is said to have been was thoroughly searched during the first half hour after her disappearance.

One rumor is that it was a couple of visiting tourists who saw the child sleeping and thought her parents were nearby. It is also stated it was a Jasper resident who saw the little girl.

OUR DELONG TELLS HOW JASPER FEELS

Jasper is a little town with a great big heartache. That's the way Jack DeLong, the Bulletin's star columnist, describes the nerve-centre of the hunt for Lorraine Smith. For the story of how the town feels and what it's doing, turn to page 11 and read Jack DeLong's "On the Town" column.

$1,000 REWARD FOR NEWS OF MISSING TOT

A reward of $1,000 "for information leading to the recovery of Lorraine Smith," missing since last Saturday at Jasper, was offered today by the Edmonton Y Men's club.

An announcement was made in a telephone call from Jasper to YMCA officials here by Joel Smith, uncle of the two-year-old girl.

Taegu Defenders Braced for Blow

Fresh Communist Attacks Rolled Back By UN Forces

TOKYO, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Fresh Communist attacks north of Taegu were rolled back by United Nations troops today.

The western forces were braced for a major Communist blow at the important base city in the center of the front.

Most of the 84 Russian-made tanks the North Koreans threw into battle yesterday were destroyed or damaged.

Allied aircraft were credited with destroying 19 enemy tanks and damaging 22 more in a record 55 sorties. Seventeen others had been knocked out Wednesday.

Two tied thrusts against Taegu were stopped. One along was halted seven miles north of the rail and supply center along the Kumhwa highway by United States troops. The other was forced back east of Yongpung, road junction 20 miles east of Taegu.

SUPPLIES RUSHED
Communist commanders recklessly rushed great truck columns carrying men and supplies toward this major front.

In the southeast, an attack on the road to Pusan, prime allied harbor in the southeast, was beaten back.

Advances were made by American troops toward the Nakdong river in the center of the front after five weeks of Yonah, 32 miles south of Taegu.

Possible Kidnapping Probed In Baby Hunt

are three main alternatives in connection with the Smith girl's disappearance.

2.—She has fallen victim to some animal, such as bear, cougar or wolf.

3.—She has fallen into either the Matine or Alabasca rivers.

3.—She has been taken away by some person in a car.

Another aspect of this last theory is that the child may have been struck by a car and then taken away by the driver who feared detection.

On the basis of possible kidnapping police are today releasing a new photograph of the Smith child, plus a complete description of her clothing at the time of disappearance.

The child was wearing a white T-shirt, red bib overalls and red shoes. She had no hat or stockings.

She is described as a honey-blond with long flowing curls. Her weight is given as 20 pounds.

As the search continued yesterday, the father of the missing girl was out with the first party of ground searchers, as he has been every day and some of the night since the child went missing.

He has kept up his spirits and hopes in a manner that has amused other searchers.

Little last night he was busy with police and other search leaders going over maps and discussing plans for today's search.

In a brief conversation with this reporter just before he turned in for a few hours sleep, Mr. Smith said: "I don't know how I can thank everybody for the wonderful way they have helped. Everybody has been truly wonderful, and I want to thank the people of Jasper in particular."

Mr. Smith has definitely not lost hope. He said that his wife is also bearing up bravely under the heart-breaking strain.

Mrs. Smith was invited to join Inspector Chablin in the helicopter for this morning's search and accepted.

It has been estimated that more than 4,000 men, women and children have participated in the search since last Saturday.

Yesterday an appeal for more help was sent to Edmonton. The response was tremendous. So many carloads arrived during the afternoon and evening that search directors have asked no more persons come from the city to join the search. They could not be accommodated for one thing.

Secondly, too many persons unfamiliar with this mountainous country, would impede rather than aid the search.

RADIO NETWORK
Through efforts of radio men from Edmonton, the armed forces, and local "ham" enthusiasts, a complete radio search network has been set up. This will augment work already being done through the use of walkie-talkie sets.

Dick Rice of Edmonton radio station CFRN, Bill Cowley, Edmonton radio supply dealer, army and RCAF wireless experts and Jasper radio technicians joined in setting up the network control.

QUICKIES By Ken Reynolds

PLUG IN the electric clock I got today with a Bulletin War Ad—and see what time it is!

It was the helicopter crew that spotted the bear Alvin Tuesday.

The YMCA summer camp at Lake Edith has been closed down a week ahead of schedule because of the search and no more reservations are being accepted.

Hot meals are now being served free of charge to the searchers at the Y camp which has become the headquarters and nerve center for the search.

Sandwiches and coffee are also provided to search parties before they leave morning and afternoon to be consumed in the bush.

The weather in the area has been described by police and army as "perfect" for this type of search. There was a brief rain shower yesterday afternoon at the lower level, and a powdering of snow on the mountain sides above the timber line.

Many guests from Jasper Park, Lewis and Clark and other areas have joined the search parties.

Some taxes are expected to be of an anti-inflationary nature rather than of a revenue-producing character. A new tax on automobiles and other commodities in the so-called luxury class may be introduced for the double purpose of producing revenue and discouraging the use of steel needed in defence industries.

Community Chest Seeks Higher 1950 Objective

Edmonton's Community Chest will boost its annual objective to $175,000 this year.

The drive for funds to support the 28 social agencies and welfare organizations whose work in the city is financed by the Chest will open Oct. 5.

Objective represents a 10 per cent increase over the actual donations made in last year's campaign.

G. W. Bruce, chairman of the campaign, announced the objective yesterday following a meeting of the committee.

Mounting costs of all services and the rapid increase in the population of the city are reflected in the increased objective, Mr. Bruce said. Income tax regulations allow a deduction of contributions to the Community Chest of up to five per cent of net income, he added.

Volunteer workers participating in the October drive will make a special appeal to employees of large organizations and businesses to contribute to the fund through regular payroll deduction plans.

Troop Reserve Said Still Left To Korea Reds

TOKYO, Sept. 7.—(Reuters)—American intelligence reports today indicated that the Communists have not yet committed all their troops in their offensive against the 120-mile United Nations defense line in Korea.

North Korean forces were estimated at two divisions by staff officers at Gen. MacArthur's headquarters today.

Reports of large-scale truck convoys running the gauntlet of allied fire attacks support the belief that the northern offensive will continue on an even higher scale.

Hospital Program OK'd for Plebiscite

Council Finance Committee Passes Royal Alex Plans

A $2,235,000 modernization and extension program for Royal Alexandra hospital was approved last night by city council's finance committee.

Monday night's council meeting will be asked to prepare the necessary money bill for submission to taxpayers vote at the November civic election.

Plans outlined by Dr. D. B. Eaton, hospital superintendent, and Gordon K. Wynn, hospital board president, provide $1,000,000 for a new 400-bed maternity building, $1,200,000 for repairs and modernization of the present structure, and $35,000 for a tunnel to connect the two buildings.

The new maternity wing would be built in the triangle of land across 111 avenue from the present building, bounded by Kingsway and 101 street.

STOREY PROJECT

Modernization of present facilities would include a four-storey project on the north side, to contain laboratories, x-ray theatre, pharmacy, and fourth-floor kitchen. There would be a rearrangement of departments, but no new space would be provided.

Dr. Eaton, Mr. Wynn, and Ald. Fred Mitchell, chairman of the hospital board, all agreed present facilities are "not suitable at all." "The board is completely agreed the whole suggested program is an absolute necessity," they said. "We can't continue to operate in the present overcrowded situation and the question of extension has been dilly-dallied around for 16 years now. It's a case of the whole thing or nothing," said Dr. Eaton.

On Labor Day, he reported, the hospital had 11 women in the present maternity section for whom there were no beds.

Ald. Mitchell insisted there should be no delay about preparing the bylaw. He said council should go ahead because while the city population has doubled, hospital accommodation hasn't changed. "Committee members agreed on questions of provincial grants, rates for non-residents, and payment for city indigent cases, but he laid out for settlement after the bylaw is prepared."

BATTLING LUCANER in swashbuckling adventures in Rafael Sabatini's fabulous pirate hero, Louis Hayward, who plays leading role in "Fortunes of Captain Blood," which opens Friday at Rialto Theatre. Patricia Medina and George Macready also star in Columbia presentation.

Fortunes of Captain Blood' Real Swashbuckling Thrill

Most thrilling of all the swashbuckling adventures of Rafael Sabatini's is brought to the screen for the first time in Columbia's "Fortunes of Captain Blood," which begins Friday at the Rialto Theatre.

With Louis Hayward filling the daring title role, "Fortunes of Captain Blood" is the full-bodied romance story alive with a hundred adventures and a thousand thrills.

It tells the exciting story of Sabatini's pirate hero as a prince of his head, brave, cunning, and daring, who is sworn to liberate members of his crew who have been made alive in pearl fisheries.

FRUIT PEDDLER
Disguising himself as a fruit peddler, Hayward, despite a price on his head, braves through hostile territory, fighting, looting and living as he competes for his men.

With the help of Jerry Donahue, who lulls a prison overcast with his charms, he manages to gain entry to the dungeons, but when discovered is forced to fight his way out.

Once aboard his ship, "The Avenger," finds himself trapped by a low tide.

BLOOD ENEMY
Then blood enemy, George Macready, begins pondering his ship's pieces, but the vile boxer, with the use of all his wits and generalship turns the tables on the enemy.

Hayward delivers a dazzling performance, slaying his way through his enemies, capturing the hearts of women, in the best tradition of a swashbuckling hero.

Patricia Medina, who plays a high-born Spanish beauty, turns in one of her most outstanding performances.

Bandits Get Cash, Bonds
BROOKBROOK, Sept. 7.—(CP)—Two masked men who escaped with $10,000 after blowing open the vault of the Canadian Bank of Commerce here are being sought by provincial police and officers from Hamilton, 12 miles north of this town.

It was also reported that the bandits obtained $10,000 in negotiable bonds from the private sale of an 84-year-old business man living next door to the bank, whom the bandits traced up before breaking into the bank. But this report was unconfirmed late last night.

The robbery occurred early yesterday. The men broke into the house of George Beer, elderly equipment dealer and forced him to open his safe before tying him up with bedsteads.

They then broke down a wooden door leading to the bank and blew open the vault with three charges of nitroglycerine. A nearby door was smashed and large chunks of plaster were blown from the walls by the force of the explosion.

Missing Man Story Denied
Ole Hallock, former Vancouver amateur pilot, denied newspaper reports that he had mysteriously disappeared from the coast on two occasions.

In Edmonton, the man who had been presumed dead two years ago following the crash of a light aircraft in the mountains said he had not returned home for reasons of health and finances.

He told of crawling away from the aircraft although recollections of the incident are hazy. He then rode a freight train to northern Ontario where he worked for two years, he said.

WRITING WIFE
For the past two months he had been writing his wife in Vancouver, he stated.

A news report from the Coast last week quoted his wife as saying he visited her for one day recently and then disappeared again.

"I simply can't understand her saying that," he said. "It simply isn't true."

Canada Pictured Under A-Bombing

Immediate Action Urged By MD in Parliament

OTTAWA, Sept. 7.—(CP)—The frightening picture of a Canada brought under devastating atomic attack, her peoples maimed and driven into inadequate shelter, was placed before the Commons last night by an eminent medical doctor.

It came from Dr. W. G. Blair, (PC-Lancet) as he urged the government to move swiftly in the formation of a civil defence program to meet the possibility of a third world war—high explosive and atomic bombing, and germ and warfare.

That program, he suggested, should include the setting up of life-saving blood banks and depots of medical and surgical supplies, the training of first-aid crews to succor the wounded and plan to evacuate cities shattered by enemy bombing.

He was joined in the call for civil defence preparations by Owen Jones (CCF-Ala) and Dr. Douglas Harkness (PC-Calgary East), both of whom agreed with him that it was time the government got moving in this field.

CLAXTON REPLIES
In reply, Defence Minister Claxton said the federal government already has discussed the matter with the provinces most concerned with the problem. However, if war came, the federal government would accept responsibility for planning and organization "at a higher level." Meaning, there were plans for co-operation in civil defence with the United States.

Dr. Blair warned that Canada's hospitals are so crowded now that some other places would have to be found to shelter the wounded if war brought attacks on Canada. Modern war had placed the civilian population in the front line and the municipalities were looking to the Dominion for guidance and leadership.

The situation, he said, would be complicated further if the army had to fight on Canadian soil and had its own share of wounded.

It would be easy, for example, for an enemy to use bacterial agents to infect food and water supplies. The population would be crippled and industry slowed or halted.

World Food Experts Warn of Inflation
PARIS, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Directors of the International Monetary Fund warned Western Europe today that it faces dangerous inflation unless reconstruction spending is restricted.

The international money experts also said that continued wage increases will push export prices up to a point where vital North American markets will be lost.

Fire Chiefs Ask Inquiry Into Homes for Aged

VICTORIA, B.C., Sept. 7.—(CP)—A Dominion-wide investigation into homes for the aged was recommended yesterday by Chief Arthur Burch of St. Catharines, Ont., to the convention of the Dominion Association of Fire Chiefs here.

Chief Burch, chairman of fire prevention committee, said many old homes being bought for homes for the aged were inadequately protected against fires.

"There should be some form of municipal control on old residences which are being turned over for the care of pensioners," he said.

Adrian Cook, manager of the Saskatchewan Fur Marketing Service, said that a continued boycott at the ports would likely result in increased prices for raw furs and higher price tags on fur coats in retail stores.

New York Stevedores recently refused to unload Russian-produced furs worth $7,000,000 consigned to American furrers.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 7.—(CP)—The Canadian Wheat Board today announced the minimum prices it will pay farmers for the various grades of grain for the 1950-51 crop season.

Freight Rate Increase

Size Awaits Settlement

OTTAWA, Sept. 7.—(CP)—While the railways will seek higher freight rates as the result of wage-hour concessions obtained by their employees, informed sources said today the size of the proposed increase will not be determined until after a final settlement is reached with the unions.

This settlement is to be worked out in government-ordered negotiations (due to begin at Montreal) this Saturday. A 30-day time limit from Aug. 30 has been placed on the negotiations, though extensions may be granted by cabinet.

Under the government's bill ordering the strikers back to work, they get an immediate four-cent-an-hour increase. This will cost the companies about $17,000,000 a year, which would be covered by an increase of about five per cent in rail rates.

The 40-hour week with undeducted take-home pay is to go into effect.

By the companies' estimates, that would cost them another $80,000,000 a year. It would take a further rate increase of something over 20 per cent to cover that amount.

However, the size of the increase or increase actually applied, the railways have to meet. Their general revenue position would have to be taken into account, and this could vary the figures up or down.

Rail Strike Held To Be Unjustified

Senator Says Issues Were Changed After Power Voted

OTTAWA, Sept. 7.—(CP)—Senator J. W. de B. Farria said yesterday that the recent Canadian railway strike was "not justified" and urged consideration of steps to avoid tie-ups of such vital industries in the future.

One such consideration, he told the Senate, might be establishment of a labor court in Canada.

The veteran lawyer and co-leader of the British Columbia strike-general addressed the Senate for almost two hours and received a thunderous ovation. The debate was interrupted by a fellow Liberal from British Columbia, Senator Thomas Reid.

Senator Farria emphasized that he was not saying that the railway men had no grievances nor the right to press them. But the issues at the time of calling the strike were different from those at the time the men had voted their leaders the power to halt the railways.

There had been no secret ballot. The ballot papers had contained "inadequate information" about the situation. The findings of a constitution board had been repudiated and the plea of Prime Minister St. Laurent for a 30-day postponement of the walkout ignored. For these and other reasons, he said, the strike was not justified.

He said his only trouble on the road was one flat—and the RCMP. The latter stopped him numerous times to inspect the vehicle but allowed him to continue.

The trip, during which he averaged 33 miles an hour, cost Whittellton $35.

Truck Plunge Kills Eleven In India

GUALIOR, India, Sept. 7.—(Reuters)—Eleven of 20 passengers were drowned when a truck plunged into a swollen river in Gwalior state, reports received here today said.

Most of the victims were women and children. The truck was crossing a causeway which collapsed.

Scientists have estimated that Annapolis Existed on earth from 30,000,000 to 15,000,000 years ago.

REFORMS URGED

Senator Farria said immediate steps that should be taken by the government were implementation of the secret strike ballot; assurance that any strike ballot shall contain the latest issues involved; any dispute and a fair summary of argument on both sides of the question.

Strike ballots should first be submitted to the labor department as a labor court which would bring both sides into agreement as to what this fair summary should be.

Marines Get An Apology

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Harry S. Truman has apologized for his harsh words about the Marines in the greatest display of presidential word-eating in recent American history.

One immediate result was an ebbing away today of some of the fury over President Truman's description of the Marines as simply a naval police force with a "propaganda machine that is almost equal to Stalin's."

That was the way he had staid up the leathernecks in a letter to Representative Gordon McDonough (Rep. Calif.) that came to light Tuesday. His words blew up a gale of counter-accusations.

SET PRECEDENT

The president was worried. Late yesterday he called Marine Commandant Clinton B. Cates to the White House and personally handed over a letter that began:

"I sincerely regret the unfortunate choice of language which I used in my letter. . . ."

Washington old-timers could remember no comparable language from the White House.

Even so, Republicans are sure to see to it that the country hears more about the Truman slip during this year's election campaign.

OTTAWA, Sept. 7.—(CP)—Though prospects have improved slightly during the past month, Canada's fruit crops this year will be down from a year ago.

All tree-fruit and grape crops showed improvement with the exception of apples and pears. The apple and pear crops are estimated to be three-per-cent lighter than last anticipated in July.

For Fall Your Silhouette Will Be

NARROW as an arrow

For Fall Fashions First

You'll wear the new silhouette this Fall. It shows up most vividly in dresses—in dresses curve through the torso, with a well-defined but slightly lower waistline marked by down-curving belts. And always your hipline is rounded. But the narrow look shows up in coats and suits too. Your coats that while still loose and full, are slimmer than a year ago . . . with back fullness hanging straight rather than flaring out. Suits, traditionally slim, achieve the even more slender look. Even in Sportswear, the outstanding idea is the slim skirt, plain or pleated—and sports dresses take to slim skirts and deeply-curving contour belts. Accessories, too, stress the narrow look for YOU.

WHY GROW OLD

Hands Reveal Much Of A Woman's Character

By Josephine Lowman

When you see a great actress on the stage who gives you the impression of joy or suffering or abandon which she portrays so vividly, how does she do it?

Of course, her voice and her facial expressions play a great part.

However, her movements, her stance, her posture and the use of her hands, are also richly impressive.

Let us concentrate on the hands today. Hands are very individual in shape, and of course, our fingertips are entirely original. The hand tells a lot about a woman.

Tenderness or nervousness makes us feel uncomfortable. If the hands or posture constantly with her hands, or if she drums on the arm of the chair or on the table, we feel restless and irritable and she does not seem to possess charm and calm and grace.

There is nothing more humiliating than the shrug of the shoulders and turned up palms which indicate "the what?" or "What can I do?" However, for the average woman, the quiet, calm hand is best and when she uses her hands it should be with smooth grace.

Rivard-Vango Vows Taken At St. Paul's

Gladioli Blooms Decorate Church
As Bride Wears Egg Shell Crepe

Chancel and altar of St. Paul's Anglican Church were pink and white with gladioli when Marijane Jean Vango, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Vango, pledged vows with Phillip John Rivard, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Rivard, all of Edmonton.

Rev. George Kelly performed the ceremony in which the bride was given in marriage by her father.

For the occasion, she wore an egg shell crepe gown, the fitted bodice featuring buttons down the back and full-length sleeves. Pleated puffed-up skirt lace trim added interest to the skirt which was fashioned with a short train.

She carried red roses and wore her bridegroom's gift, a string of pearls.

The bride was attended by John Vango was best man and Vernon Housner ushered the guests.

MISS FRAYER PLAYS

Organ music played by Miss Donna Frayer included "To A Wild Rose", "Jesus Joy of Man's Desiring", "Ave Maria" and "O Perfect Love".

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Vango chose a black velvet suit. Her hair was black and trimmed with velvet and on her shoulder was pinned a corsage of American Beauty roses which matched her accessories.

Reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Housner where a handsome lace cloth covered the bride's table which was centered with a wedding cake flanked by bouquets of summer roses.

Mrs. H. M. Vango and Mrs. A. C. M. Pook poured while guests were served by Phillip Vango, Donna Frayer, Mrs. Housner, Mrs. J. Hadden and Mrs. G. Crawford.

BRIDAL TOAST

Mr. Housner proposed the bride toast.

For travelling, the bride wore a brown and beige velvet suit with accessories to match and a corsage of Tallman roses.

The couple will live in Edmonton.
